NO MEETING THIS WEEK DUE TO SHOW DAY

President's Notes

Hello Rotarians,

Last week we approved our club constitution. I would like to thank all those learned Rotarians who took the time to put this important paperwork together.

We should all by now have returned our Christmas boxes for disadvantaged children, if you have not returned your box please contact Secretary Krista.

This week is Launceston Show and we are very lucky to have a great support of volunteers over the 3 days. Fly our Rotary flag with pride. There is no meeting this Thursday.

We will be also in need of volunteers in the next few weeks for RYDA.

We are still on the lookout for a newsletter editor, if you think you would like to take on this role please contact Rotarian Dennis Tulk.

I will not be at the meeting next week and therefore there will not be a report. Bjork will be staying with Rotarian Lance and his wife Mel and their boys during that week I am away.

Yours in Rotary, President Glenda Iles

Well worth a look!! Well done to those Rotarians who saved this. And well done to those who decide to watch it here.

Learned more about Paul Harris and especially the other early members of Rotary than anywhere else.

The Wine Auction

2nd November

This is a great club fun event conducted by Craig Mitchell plus a willing helper and they always manage to raise a good amount of money for our Club.

You need now to start searching for those extra bottles of wine in your cupboards or cellars to donate for the evening.

Merilyn Briggs had a weekend away at White Sands Estate on the East Coast with her grandchildren Evan, Cohen and Rahni and our exchange student Bjork Hansen.

Fun at Natureworld- the East Coast Wildlife Sanctuary over the weekend

They all had to do the usual thing after the visit, clean their shoes of bird and animal droppings. Just part of the fun eh.

You cannot do a kindness too soon. ~Ralph Waldo Emerson
