Children and Grandchildren evening

President's Notes

Welcome Rotarians,

Last week our Rotarian behind the badge was presented by Rotarian Josh De Groot. These presentations allow us get an insight into each others lives before they joined our Rotary club. Rotarian Josh certainly has packed a lot into his life. He joined the Army and during that time he became a printer which is something that I did not know.

This weeks meeting is for our children and grandchildren and Rotarian Ian Smith has been very busy organising games for the night. I look forward to this fun night.

Agfest is fast approaching and a great team of Rotarians have already been working hard behind the scenes to make this a successful event, please support us.

Our team that is heading of to Fiji have also been very busy with applications for RAWCS and work schedules once again I ask you to show support for this worthwhile project.

Bjork is due home this Friday after 3 weeks travelling around Australia. Bjork will give a report in next weeks newsletter.

Yours in Rotary

President Glenda Iles

26 April – Stephen Gordon (17 years)

28 April - Graham Gough (9 years)

26 April – Lance Pfeffer

27 April – Glenda Iles

Last week our Rotarian behind the Badge was presented by Rotarian Josh De Groot. This is another insight into our members lives before they joined our Rotary club. He told us about his service in the Army and about his adventures into the world of the printing business when he commenced his own printer business. His life with hobbies such as fishing and boating were of interest to members also.

He told us that he has taken up the travelling bug with a van and is just planning his next journey with Karen very soon.

You have certainly packed a lot into your life Josh and we thank you for your presentation and learning a bit more about you.

Notes from 19 April 2018

President Glenda

From the District Governor - "Aspire to be Inspired"

I am now quite convinced; we have seen the evidence! A good team and thorough planning has been evident in a very successful 2018 D9830 Conference. All members of the Rotary Club of Salamanca have excelled, each with their own expertise. Even to the very last tasks Sunday afternoon – a good little team helping to load the sand into the trucks from the demolished sand sculpture. Another very small “team” finally bumping - out from the dining room and a slightly bigger team loading up from the remains from the reception desk! Some were chauffeuring guests/speakers to the airport. As this is happening, we believe, many satisfied conference delegates were heading home! Thank you to all delegates for your support. It has been difficult for me to focus on much else in the last week – well two, as we didn’t send a message stick over Easter – I trusted you all knew what the District Governor was doing?

Received Monday –

- “Aspired, we all were”
- “Wow! What a conference”
- “Well done Rotary Club of Salamanca”.
- “The conference was a resounding success due to a whole club effort”.
- “You should be bloody proud of yourselves!”
- “What a team – great effort”.
- “It truly was an inspiring and most successful conference, indeed”.
- “You must be and have every right to be proud of the conference”.
- “Her Excellency just popped down to see me, to say how much she enjoyed the short time she was at the conference”.
- “The Rotary Club of Salamanca is a strong, supportive, fun, caring and inclusive club”.
- “There was a warm and vibrant feeling”.

We still have not filled this position...

See President Glenda or Secretary Krista, the time is coming (end of April to be exact), when a new editor needs to start training .....

We look like at the moment we will not have "Tamar Views" newsletters for next Rotary Year.

More than four decades ago, Fadil Bayyari left the West Bank in search of a better life. He was 19 when he arrived in Chicago with $350 in his pocket.

Today he's a successful builder and real estate developer in Fayetteville, Arkansas, a father and grandfather, and a Rotarian. A Fayetteville park and elementary school are named for him – Bayyari donated the land for each – and he and his family recently gave $1 million toward the construction of Arkansas Children's Northwest hospital in Springdale. But Bayyari, who is Muslim, is also known for reaching out across faiths.

He helped the local Jewish community build a synagogue, Temple Shalom of Northwest Arkansas. "Ralph Nesson is a friend from Rotary.

Their small community was having trouble finding a home for their new synagogue," Bayyari says.

"I told him that I wanted to help them build it" – which he did at no charge. The synagogue opened in 2009. Bayyari has also donated his services to several Baptist churches.

"I respect other people's religions and way of life, and this is one way to show it," he says. "Northwest Arkansas has given me the opportunity to grow and invest my time and talent, and I can never forget that," he says. "My utmost gratefulness propels me to give back to this community." – Anne Stein
