President's Notes

Hello Fellow Rotarians,

Thank you for all being so attentive at last weeks meeting whilst Bjork did her presentation on her home. It was great to see the confidence in this young lady as it is not an easy task to stand in front of 30 odd people and talk.

We also had 3 guests from different parts of the world attend our meeting. Joan and Keith Morgan from Rotary club of Cromwell N.Z and Koen Sap from Roeselare Mercurius Rotary which is in Belgium. We wish them all safe travels especially Koen and his family who are travelling around the world for 12months with 3 children in tow, what a wonderful educational experience for them. Thank you for making them feel welcome.

We also had Ella Dixon from Migrant resource centre visit us and we had the pleasure of presenting her with reading books donated by our members.

This Wednesday night we are all meeting at Kings Meadows Rotary club, I hope you all have a great time.

We are in talks with the hotel at the moment in regards to our meals and service, I hope that you all noticed the effort they are taking as last weeks meal was lovely. If for any reason you are not happy please contact myself or a board member as we would like to keep the doors of communications open with the hotel

I would like to wish you all a safe and Happy Easter.

Yours in Rotary

President Glenda Iles

Red Hot Summer tour's concert second instalment at the Country Club Casino.

Are you both waiting for someone to exit and then hose them?

A quiet place for a drink.

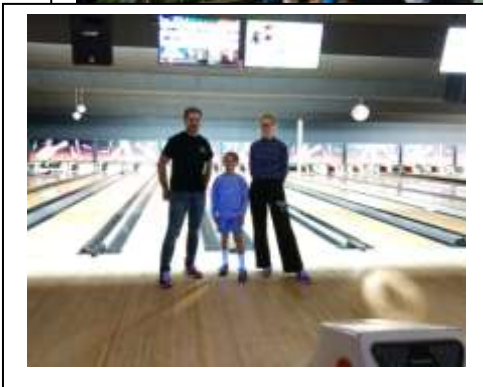

We would all like to know what you are looking for Graham !!

Bjork had a day out with Rotarian Lance and his family. A trip down to Ashgrove Dairy Farm for some lovely cheese and a game of Ten Bin bowls. Bjork got a couple of spares and with a very consistent approach won the second game against Lance and his son Nate.

Rotaractors work together throughout East Africa

—Brad Webber

Across East Africa, Rotaractors are transcending borders. Since 2013, young people from Burundi, Kenya, Rwanda, Tanzania, and Uganda have come together for annual gatherings as part of Rotaract East Africa Impact, commonly known as REACT. Each year, they focus on a particular need related to one of Rotary's areas of focus, such as disease prevention, maternal health, and water, sanitation, and hygiene.

The inaugural project involved planting trees, teaching hygiene, and providing career guidance to students at two primary schools in Masaka, Uganda. In 2014, young leaders converged on Buterere, an impoverished area near the Burundian capital, Bujumbura, to carry out a project in cooperation with UNICEF and other partners and donors. "We showed households how to use modern water purification methods, and we donated jerry cans and pails to assist with water collection," says Sarah Maingi, a participant from Kenya.

In 2015, teams met in Kenya, where they contributed mosquito nets and helped do cleanup in a slum area. In 2016, in Rwanda, they planted gardens and distributed clothing at a settlement of genocide survivors. In 2017, in Tanzania, the Rotaractors distributed medications and folic acid tablets to expectant mothers, along with delivery kits and diapers for newborns, at a hospital in Dar es Salaam.

Fundraising is a challenge, but working with scant resources hasn't dampened the Rotaractors' spirits. The convocations include time for fun and camaraderie, with cultural nights that celebrate members' homelands. The overarching theme, however, is cooperation. "REACT is drawing together young leaders from diverse backgrounds," says Maingi, "and empowering them to better serve their communities."
